From Prince Ferdinand's Head Quarters at Sachſenhauſen, July 18. Advice having been received by Prince Ferdinand, That a Body of the Enemy, conſiſting of ſome Battalions and Light Troops, were advanced on the Left of our Army towards Ziegenhaim, his Serene Highneſs detached the Hereditary Prince on the 14th Inſtant with ſix Battalions, two Hanoverian and four Heſſian, Elliot's Regiment, (which was juſt arrived) Luckner's Huſſars, and two Brigades of Chaſſeurs, to oppoſe that Corps. On the 16th, the Hereditary Prince engaged them near the Village of Erxdorff. The Action was very warm for ſome Time, but in the End the Enemy was entirely defeated. Two Battalions of Royal Baviere, three of Anhalt, together with the Commander in Chief, Major General Glaubitz, and the Prince of Anhalt Cothen, were made Priſoners of War. Six Pieces of their Cannon were taken, and all their Arms, Baggage, &c. Elliot's Regiment ſignalized themſelves greatly upon this Occaſion. The main Army of the French under Marſhal Broglio ſtill remains encamped upon the Heights of Corbach.

From the King of Pruſſia's Head Quarters at Grunau near Dreſden, July 18.

On the 2d Inſtant, the Army marched in two Columns, through a very woody Country, with very little Interruption from the Enemy, who might have rendered our March extremely difficult, perhaps impracticable, if they had had Notice of the King's Deſigns, and had placed their Troops properly to intercept us. On the Afternoon of the ſame Day we paſſed the River Pulſnitz, on the Bridge at Cracau, and encamped upon the Heights near that Town.

On the 4th, his Majeſty, at the Head of the Vanguard, marched to Koningſbruck, repaſſed the Pulſnitz, and continued on towards Lichtenberg, with an Intent to attack General Laſcy's Corps ſtationed there: But that General having Notice from his Out-Poſts of his Majeſty's Approach, thought proper to retire.

On the 5th, the Army marched in the Morning, in three Columns, to Marienſtern: And,

On the 6th, (Advice having been received, that Marſhal Daun had quitted his ſtrong Camp at Reichenberg, and was marched from thence to Bautzen, and proceeding towards Gorlitz) our Army was ordered to paſs the River Sprehe near Groſs-Dobrau; and from thence we occupied the Camp at Doberſchutz, about half a German Mile from Bautzen.

On the 8th, Intelligence having been given of Marſhal Daun's actual Arrival at Gorlitz, and of his continuing his March to Lauban, (by which Means the Marſhal had gained two Marches upon the King) Orders were given for ſtriking our Tents at Eight o'Clock at Night, and we repaſſed the Sprehe near Bautzen; and

On the 9th marched by Biſchoffswerda to Harta, where the Head Quarters were fixed.

On the 10th his Majeſty ſent a ſtrong Detachment under General Ziethen to Marſdorff near Reichenberg, and marched himſelf with the reſt of the Army to Weiſſig: Whereupon General Laſcy, who was encamped at Weiſſe-Hirſch, quitted that Poſt, croſſed the Elbe on the Stone Bridge of Dreſden, and encamped on the Plain between Pirna and that Town. The Army of the Empire, under the Duke of Deux Ponts, was encamped upon the Heights behind Plauen.

On the 12th the Army marched in two Columns, and took Poſſeſſion of the ſtrong Camp at Reichenberg, where General Ziethen joined us: General Huſſen, with his Corps from Meiſſen, appeared in the Afternoon on the oppoſite Side of the River. A Bridge of Boats was thrown over the Elbe at Kaditz; and the Prince of Holſtein, and General Bulow, were left, with a ſtrong Detachment, to keep Poſſeſſion of the Poſt of Weiſſe-Hirſch.

The Army marched on the 13th to Kaditz; and his Majeſty croſſed the River, and ordered the Army to follow as expeditiouſly as poſſible; and that Day the Head Quarters were fixed at Grunau, behind the Great Garden, from whence the Auſtrian Pandours had been diſlodged; and the Army encamped in two Lines, one towards Pirna, and the other towards Dreſden. His Majeſty ſent a Summons, by one of his Aid-de-Camps, to the Town to ſurrender, which was refuſed by the Governor General Maquire: A Battery was therefore raiſed that Night, which began to play the Morning of the 14th, as did alſo another raiſed by the Prince of Holſtein, who remained on the Right of the Elbe, in order to attack the Town on that Side. The Firing from theſe Batteries has continued for theſe few Days paſt. The Suburbs of the Town towards the Pirna Gate have been attacked, and carried, by a Free Battalion, and the Chaſſeurs à Pié. A Sortie, made from the Town againſt our Detachment at Weiſſe-Hirſch, was repulſed; and a Bridge has been thrown over the Elbe, to ſecure the Communication with the Prince of Holſtein.

This Day a Sortie was attempted from the Pirna Gate, which likewiſe miſcarried; and our heavy Artillery

Artillery being now arrived from Torgau, it is expected we ſhall ſoon begin to batter in Breach.

The Army of the Empire, and the Auſtrians under General Laſcy, who had quitted their reſpective Encampments on his Pruſſian Majeſty's Approach to Dreſden, are now encamped together near Groſs-Seydlitz in an advantagious Poſition.

We have no certain News at preſent of Marſhal Daun's Motions.

Peterſburgh, June 24. On Sunday laſt, about Eleven o'Clock at Night, the Empreſs ſet out for Peterhoff, attended with her uſual Court, amongſt whom was the great Chancellor, who is to remain there as long as her Majeſty.

Copenhagen, July 15. Laſt Friday having been the firſt Publick Day ſince the Court came back from Holſtein, there was a numerous Appearance at Friedenſburg, where the King of Denmark ſhewed all the Signs both of Health and Satisfaction in his Countenance. They ſay, his Daniſh Majeſty was extremely pleaſed abroad with the good Condition in which he found his Troops. Baron Bernſtorff is not expected here till ſome Time next Week.

Captain Tonyn, in His Majeſty's Ship Fowey, has alſo taken a ſmall Dunkirk Privateer, which was cruizing off Heligolandt, to intercept the Engliſh Merchantmen bound to Hamburgh.

Whitehall, July 26, 1760.

Whereas a Corn Mill in the Pariſh of Woolwich in the County of Kent, was, on the 16th Day of March laſt, ſuppoſed to be wickedly and maliciouſly ſet on Fire, and conſumed; His Majeſty, in order to bring the Offender, or Offenders to Juſtice, is hereby pleaſed to promiſe His moſt gracious Pardon to any one of them, who ſhall diſcover his, or her Accomplice or Accomplices therein (except the Perſon, who actually ſet the ſaid Mill on Fire) ſo that he, ſhe, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof. W. PITT.

And as a farther Encouragement for apprehending and bringing to Juſtice ſuch Offenders, the Proprietors of the ſaid Corn-Mill, do hereby offer a Reward of Fifty Pounds to any Perſon or Perſons making ſuch Diſcovery as aforeſaid, (except the Perſon who actually ſet the ſaid Corn-Mill on Fire) to be paid upon the Conviction of any one or more of them, by us

To the PUBLICK.

Bruton-ſtreet, July 18, 1760.

THE Right Hon. the Lord Barrington, Secretary at War, having been pleaſed to communicate to me the following extract of a letter, I think it my duty to make it publick, for the ſake of the inhabitants of very hot climates; of the Navy ſurgeons, and thoſe committed to their care; and of thoſe commanders and ſurgeons on board trading veſſels, that are already furniſhed with my powder.—For the future proper inſtructions will be given in the printed directions.

If every one, to whom the care of my powder has been committed by their ſuperiors, had been as diligent in obſerving, as judicious in applying, and as attentive to His Majeſty's ſervice as Mr. Browne, no doubt but ſome thouſands of brave fellows might have ſurvived to ſerve their King and country, that are now no more; a conſideration of no ſmall moment in this tedious and deſtructive war, perhaps rendered more ſo by the neglect of thoſe, whom their ſuperiors had furniſhed with every advantage to enable them to do their duty with effect.

R. JAMES.

To Doctor JAMES.

SIR, War-Office, July 17, 1760.

I Send you incloſed the copy of an extract of a letter from Mr. Henry Browne, Surgeon to Colonel Coote's battalion; which I think it right to communicate to you, as it ſhews the great efficacy of your medicines, and as it may aſſiſt you in giving directions for accommodating the doſes to very hot climates.—You are at liberty to make what uſe you pleaſe of this extract, which may be depended on as authentic. I am, Sir,

Your moſt obedient, and
moſt humble ſervant,
BARRINGTON.

Extract of a letter from Mr. Henry Browne, Surgeon of Colonel Coote's battalion, dated at Madraſs the 4th of Nov. 1759.

With the ſix companies that went out with us, we loſt eighteen in the voyage, fifteen of them died of fevers. We had above forty fevers in the ſhip I was in. I uſed James's Powders with great ſucceſs; we had but one died. When we were within twelve Degrees of the Line, or leſs, it was impracticable to uſe them as James, the evacuations were ſo great, that the patient could not bear them: I gave four or five grains, every three hours, which proved a powerful ſudorific; the firſt doſe generally vomited, or purged two or three times: By this treatment the fever left them in two or three days."

DR. JAMES's Powder for FEVERS, and other Inflammatory Diſtempers, publiſhed by Virtue of His MAJESTY's ROYAL LETTERS PATENT, will remove (as has been experienced in many thouſand Caſes) any continual acute Fever in a few Hours, though attended with Convulſions, Light-headedneſs, and the worſt Symptoms: But if taken in the Beginning of a Fever, one Doſe is generally ſufficient to perform a Cure. *

It is likewiſe a moſt effectual Remedy for all internal Inflammation, Pleuriſies, Quincies, acute Rheumatiſms, and the Lowneſs of Spirits, and Uneaſineſſes proceeding from ſlow and latent Fevers, which are generally miſtaken for Vapours and Hyſterics; it is extremely effectual in the Small Pox, Meaſles, and St. Anthony's Fire; and a ſingle Doſe remarkably ſtops the Progreſs of a Cold, and certainly prevents the ill Conſequences ariſing from that very common Diſorder, the Source of almoſt all Diſtempers.

This Powder (which is a very ſafe and pleaſant Medicine to take) is ſold by J. Newbery at the Bible and Sun in St. Paul's Church-yard, London; and by J. Hoey, jun. in Skinner Row, Dublin; at 2 s. 6 d. the two Doſes, with good Allowance to thoſe who buy it for charitable Uſes, or to ſell again.

* See a Diſſertation on Fevers, and other Inflammatory Diſtempers, ſold at the Places above-mentioned. Price 6 d.
